For Sale at Windham.

THE farm well known as the STEPHEN HANSON farm. It is one mile from Windham Centre, contains about 250 acres of good land, divided about equally into Tillage and Pasture land. It has, for buildings, a barn 40x100 with two sheds attached, each 30 feet, a two story house with out-buildings, all in very good repair. The farm now cuts about 40 tons of hay, and can be made to cut 100 at small expense, and is well adapted for a stock or grazing farm as it is well fenced with wall and has plenty of water. For sale low. Enquire of ELIJAH VARNEY, Windham, or E. P. CHASE, Portland.

Valuable Mill Property!

FOR SALE AT JAY BRIDGE.

THE Jay Steam Mill, with about four acres of land attached, on which there is a Dwelling House, will be sold cheap. Said mill is one of the best mills in this state. The machinery is of the best and most approved kind—consisting of a large circular saw, clapboard and shingle machines, planer, lathe, saw, grist mill, etc., with one of the best engines ever used in this country. Said engine is 100 horse power, nearly new, and in perfect order. The power is amply sufficient to run all the machinery of the mill. There is no other place on the Androscoggin river considered so safe for booming logs as at this mill. For further information inquire of STILMAN NOYES, or V. M. RICHARDSON, Jay Bridge, Me. feb24deod&w2m

THE PRESS.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 8, 1875

EVERY regular attache of the PRESS is furnished with a Card certificate countersigned by Stanley T. Pullen, Editor. All railway, steamboat and hotel managers will confer a favor upon us by demanding credentials of every person claiming to represent our journal, as we have information that several "bummers" are seeking courtesies in the name of the PRESS, and we have no disposition to be, even passively, a party to such frauds.

We do not read anonymous letters and communications. The name and address of the writer are in all cases indispensable, not necessarily for publication but as a guaranty of good faith.

We cannot undertake to return or reserve communications that are not used.

Despicable.

It is said that the rancor and malignity of partisan journalism is slowly but surely dying out. A brief examination of extracts from partisan journals fifty years since, confirms the correctness of the statement. Then there was naught political warfare but personal detraction and abuse mingled with a degree of malice that a fair minded person can scarcely conceive to be possible. Even so great a man as De Witt Clinton dwarfed himself by a frequent use of detraction and calumny as a political weapon. For instance, he spoke of Van Buren as "a scoundrel of the first magnitude and in politics a confirmed knave"; Crawford was "a thorough-paced political blackleg"; the younger Adams was a "political apostate" and everything but "honest", while the elder Adams was a "scamp."

There is, however, now and then a journalist who has no idea that any change has been taking place in the method of conducting a party paper. Schooled in the theory that a political opponent is a personal enemy to be destroyed by any possible means, skillful only in the use of the weapons of calumny, versed in all the modes of cowardly attack upon character and reputation so that his stab is like that of the assassin, exhibiting the same fiendish delight in the rankling wound which the malignant innuendo inflicts as the savage exhibits in the effect of a poisoned arrow—this sort of journalist, the aversion of his party associates, hated more than dreaded by honest opponents, without the confidence or respect of a fair minded man in any party, sows seed, which, should it take root, would divide communities and states into warlike factions, so intolerant and malignant that not only social intercourse and business relations would be confined to party limits, but society would be in danger from bloody collisions as is now the case where a conscienceless and malignant press inspires party action. Happily this class of journals have little influence in the North. Communities are secure because business interests and personal friendships bind men of different political parties together.

There could be no possible pretext, for instance, in the PRESS intimating that Mr. Richardson, who becomes Mayor to-day, would be most likely to be a corrupt official or betray his trust because he is a political opponent. During years of business life he has maintained a high reputation among his business associates. He has a right to expect the confidence of good men of both parties, and it would be mean beyond expression and should be criminal for any Republican paper to attribute corrupt motives to him in any official act. It may criticise his policy but his character cannot fairly be assailed without notable cause.

To-day Mr. Wescott leaves the Mayor's office. We believe that the leading Democrats of the city, like Messrs. Clapp, Bradbury, Putnam, Howard and Cleaves and a score of other equally prominent gentlemen who are his political opponents, would cheerfully bear testimony to his integrity of purpose in all his official acts. Indeed, we have heard several of these gentlemen make not only that declaration, but give him a much more emphatic endorsement. Nevertheless our contemporary allowed some one who dared not sign his name, to publish a communication in its columns, implying that Mr. Wescott had, as an interested party, built the Portland bridge extension for the railroads at the expense of the city, at the same time telling two or more lies to stick his assertion to. Now, in view of well-known business character and excellent repute, which Mr. Wescott sustains among those who know him best, this anonymous slander is simply infamous. That is the view that several leading Democrats expressed relative thereto. This calumny is all the more injurious because so adroitly put as to escape the vague law of libel. Nor can the journal which publishes it escape blame. Next in criminal responsibility to him who plunges the assassin's dagger to the heart of the passer-by, stands the man who consents that the murderer shall hide himself within his doorway to commit the crime. We cannot think that the editor of the Argus saw that outrageous attack upon Mr. Wescott else it would have gone into his waste basket rather than his columns. We think that when his attention is called to the fact, he will make the amende honorable.

By the simple plan of paying her way as she goes, Boston has succeeded in reducing by a million and a half the amount to be raised by taxation this year, and there is a decrease of ten per cent. in the rate. More than a million dollars of debt have been paid off, and the charge for interest and premium has been reduced by $27,000. The policy of keeping down the debt by incurring no expense which the city cannot afford to pay in the same year has been resolutely entered upon. Last year the expense of enlarging the city hospital, $200,000, new school houses $500,0 extension of the water works, $300,000, and other expenses to the amount of a million and a half were incurred. Instead of borrowing money to pay these they were included in the current expenses, and paid for out of the annual tax levy; and so the debt was not added to.

A MAN has lately died near Rotterdam whose life, from the Trask point of view, was very reprehensible. During his life of eighty years he smoked more than four tons of tobacco. In compliance with his dying request his coffin was lined with the cedar of cigar boxes, and his favorite pipe was placed by his side, together with a paper of tobacco and a bunch of matches. From the Trask point of view again the matches were superfluous. All the smokers of the country were invited to the funeral, and were each presented with ten pounds of tobacco and two pipes of the newest fashion. They were requested to keep their pipes lighted during the ceremony. On the whole, barring the natural grief at the death of so good a man, it must have been a very pleasant funeral to attend.

THE University of Oxford is, according to one of its professors, Thorold Rogers, far from being a model institution. Those Americans who have looked up to it with something akin to superstitious reverence will have their faith terribly shaken by Professor Rogers's statements. That gentleman judges the University by its fruits, and says it has not for the last two centuries contributed a dozen respectable books to the literature of England or Europe. Many of its professors are unfit for their duties, and "the most serious disadvantage to a candidate for a board professorship is his having any demonstrable reputation for acquaintance with the subject which he aspires to teach." Let us set this down against some of the ugly things said of the American college.

THE gradual shrinkage of values is quite marked in New York, where rents have fallen ten per cent. within a year. The reduction must soon begin to show itself elsewhere.

CHICAGO hotel waiters are in certain respects the most eccentric people in that eccentric city. Those employed at the Palmer House revolted the other day because they were told to get to their work half an hour earlier in the morning and to eat their meals before they waited on the table. It is not difficult to understand the objection of the average man to going to work half an hour earlier than usual—or indeed to going to work at all; but the refusal to eat before labor, the keen desire to go to work "on an empty stomach" is something entirely unprecedented in the history of the race, and will bear investigation.

THE new Senate, which assembled Friday, is made up of forty-five Republicans and twenty-eight Democrats. Some of the Republican Senators are credited with holding independent views. But this charge is not brought against the Democrats, who are all the fiercest of partisans, and who can be counted upon every time to support the most extreme partizan measures, not a man of them who is not singularly free from the charge of having a mind of his own on party questions.

THE Dominion doesn't like to have her senators appointed by the governor-general. The House has passed a bill making them elective by the legislatures of the provinces, reducing their number one half, and apportioning twelve each to Quebec and Ontario, five each to New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and two each to Prince Edward, Manitoba and British Columbia. The present senators are not to be removed, however, the work of reducing their numbers being left to death, a proverbially slow but sure method.

THE English accuse us of stealing their books, and it seems they are trying to "get even" by stealing our patents. As soon as a valuable patent is obtained in this country a description of it is telegraphed to England, and some one there takes out letters and gobbles whatever profits may result. In 1872 no less than 890 patents were taken out in this way.

MATTERS IN MAINE.

The Guilford Arson Case.

CLOSE OF THE PROSECUTION.

DOVER, March 6—T. L. Turner testified as to the tracks of chase, corroborating the statement of Frye et als., to the declarations of the prisoner that he went about three miles from Dexter with a woman on the night of the fire.

C. P. Cass testified substantially as Turner did.

William Brown testified that he lived near where the horse was hitched; that about fifteen or twenty minutes before the alarm of fire he heard a carriage passing toward Sangerville.

Josiah Prince testified that he heard a carriage passing from Guilford to Sangerville on the night of the fire, about twenty minutes past ten.

John Simpson, Mrs. Sarah P. King, Charles H. Lewis and Olando Robbins corrobated the statements of the last witness as to the passing of the carriage.

The theory of the government is that the prisoner hired a team at Dexter about eight o'clock, went to Guilford and hitched the team about eight rods from the fire, then set the fire and returned through Sangerville to Dexter at about twelve o'clock. The horse had on one foot a bar shoe and a a peculiar shoe on another foot. The tracks of the horse where hitched had all the marks of such shoes.

All the government witness have been examined.

Death of an Indian Centenarian—A Boy Killed.

PEMBROKE, March 6.—Gov. Joseph Francis of the Passamaquoddy tribe, is dead. The Indians say he was 110 years old.

A boy named Finney, 16 years old, was instantly killed in the Rolling Mills in this place, yesterday by getting caught in the rollers.

Democratic Meeting in Biddeford.

BIDDEFORD, March 6.—The Democrats are holding a mass meeting in City Hall to-night. The spring election will be intensely active on account of last year's dead lock in the government.

The Farmington Robber.

BRUNSWICK, March 6.—A man corresponding to the description given of the robber of Mayo in Farmington, was seen last night by Mr. Kingman, the stage driver, on New Vineyard pond. Officers left Farmington in pursuit.

Belfast Municipal Nominations.

BELFAST, March 6—A citizens caucus, participated in by members of both parties, last evening re nominated John Brooks for Mayor and the old board of city officers generally.

Crime in Kennebec—Accident.

AUGUSTA, March 7.—In the court, yesterday, Alfred M. Reed pleaded guilty to an aggravated assault on M. A. Dow, and was fined $30 and cost. Dow has entered a civil suit against Reed, claiming $2,000 damages.

Mrs. Alphonso Stone of Sidney, fell on the ice Friday, dislocated her hip joint and fractured her leg.

Postal.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Post office changes in New England during the week:—Offices established—Knightville, Cumberland county, Stephen P. Mayberry postmaster. Postmasters appointed—Miss Marion Hall, North Berwick, York county.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Democrats Opposing Frank Jones.

PORTSMOUTH, March 6.—The political cauldron boils hot here. The Chronicle (Republican) announces that Dr. A. H. Mason of Moultonboro', a prominent Democratic candidate for Congress, is opposing Jones and supporting Whitehouse in this district. The Chronicle also charges that Jones has engaged the steamer Major, from Boston, which ran between this city and the Isles of Shoals last summer, to go to Gosport election day and by the votes of the captain and crew elect Frank W. Hilton, now of the Rockingham House in this city, as representative to the General Court.

A Word from Speaker Blaine.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The following telegram has been sent by Speaker Blaine:

To Hon. Dan'l Hall, chairman of the Republican State Committee, Concord, N. H:—The condition of my voice renders it impossible for me to take part in your campaign, otherwise I would be with you now. The Republicans of the whole country are watching New Hampshire with intrest and anxiety. They hope to find in the result of your election the beginning of a healthy reaction against the temporary reverses of last year and the promise of a safe, honorable and useful future for that great party which conduced the country through the perils of war and which can best administer its affairs in time of peace. J. G. BLAINE.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Newburyport Silver Mines.

NEWBURYPORT, March 6.—The silver mine fever increases. To-day three-fourths of fourteen acres of land were sold by Robert Smith to E. A. Couch of Providence, R. I., and J. W. Bartlett and others, for $75,000. Ten thousand other cash sales have been made, but this is the largest.

The Wrecked Bark Giovanni.

HIGHLAND LIGHT, March 7.—The material saved from bark Giovanni, including the hull, rigging, &c., was sold at auction yesterday on the beach, and brought about $300. About one-half of the sumac has been saved in a damaged condition, and will be carted across the cade to Provincetown and shipped thence to Boston. The nuts, wine, rags and brimstone are totally lost. Yesterday the body of an Irishman was found in a hollow of the beach with most of the clothes torn off and several empty bottles beside him. Two others are reported dead on the beach, and a fourth, who reached Provincetown, will die from the effects of the debauch. These men drank of this wine until they either killed themselves or were murdered by their drunken companions. No man's life was safe upon the beach and there was no protection for the property scattered along the shore. All the wine and nuts of the vessel's cargo have been plundered and destroyed. Two more bodies of the crew of the bark were picked up yesterday.

There is no ice to be seen in the bay this morning, and we have no news of the fishing fleet.

Death of Congressman Buffington.

FALL RIVER, March 6.—Hon. Jas. Buffington of this city, and representative of the first congressional district of Massachusetts, arrived home this morning by the steamboat train with his family and went to the residence of his son-in-law here. He died suddenly an hour later. He was 58 years of age and has been indisposed for a long period. The funeral ceremonies will take place at 12 o'clock Thursday, at the residence of his son in-law in Fall River.

The situation at Fall River is not much changed. The Merchants' mill is running now over 400 looms. A large meeting of weavers was held Saturday night, which was addressed by ex-Judge Lapham, Mr. Harriman and several of the weavers.

NEW YORK.

Scandal Rumors.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Rumors prevailed yesterday that one of the parties to the Beecher suit had withdrawn, and there would necessarily follow a discontinuance of the case. The rumors doubtless grew out of reports which prevailed several days, to the effect that one of the principal counsel had resolved to withdraw in consequence of neglect to his other business. He has been induced, however, to remain in the case, and will doubtless conduct it to the close.

The Tribune says nothing has contributed more to the sudden development of the cheerful feelings in financial circles than the end of the long warfare between the Pacific Railroad and Pacific Mail companies. The withdrawal of all competition seems to render it possible for the steamship company yet to make money especially as it embraces the opportunity to reduce expenses. With modern iron steamers its prosperity can undoubtedly be placed on a paying basis, and its friends claim special advantage for it on account of the rapid growth of local business between New York and Central America.

Pedestrianism.

The walking match at the hipprodrome was finished last night. The following is the number of miles walked by each contestant: Weston, in six days, 431 miles; Judd, in three days, 222 miles; Mullen, in 48 hours, 91 miles; Coyle, in 36 hours, 95 miles.

Murdered by Burglars.

FONDA, March 6.—Edward Yost, watchman in the Wells banking house in Johnstown, was found murdered and his body horribly charred with fire this morning, he having been murdered, robbed and the chamber set on fire. No clue to the murderers, who did not reach the bank's safe.

Minister Cushing's Instructions.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The presentation speech to King Alfonso will contain only the customary formal expressions of friendship on the part of the United States for Spain. He however has specific instructions to govern him in the negotiations initiated under the Republican government, and now to be consummated. These negotiations contemplate a full settlement of all questions pending between the two governments, while Minister Cushing, like his predecessor, will also exert himself to negotiate a new treaty of commerce and navigation, none of that character having been made with Spain since 1795. Some favorable arrangements respecting our trade with Cuba continue to be pressed by our government. It is probable that the Department of State will, during the present executive session of the Senate, transmit that body sundry documents on the subject of our affairs with Spain.

WASHINGTON.

Appointments.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Ex-Congressman Alonzo J. Ransier has been appointed collector of internal revenue for the second district of South Carolina, vice Wm. R. Croutman. Mr. Ransier was a colored representative in the Forty-third Congress from the Charleston district. Howard Knowles has been appointed collector for the fifth district of Illinois, vice Richard A. Whiting resigned, because of his election as a member of the Forty-fourth Congress.

The Executive Mansion is thronged with visitors to day, the number calling to see the President being much greater than on any day during the year. Very many Congressmen and ex-Congressmen had interviews with the President, some to take leave and others interested in business for themselves or friends.

Army Officers Retired.

By direction of the President, Major James R. Mears, paymaster of the army, having served faithfully until he is over 62 years of age, is retired from active service. Major Jacob E. Burbank, paymaster, having been found by a board of examination incapacited for active service, his name is placed upon the list of retired officers of that class in which the disability results from the length of faithful service.

Republican Caucus—Order of Senate Business.

The Republican caucus, as a result of more than three hours discussion, decided that the Senate shall this session take action on the resolutions submitted by Mr. Morton, and that they shall be considered in the following order: First, the resolution declaring that P. B. Pinchback is entitled to a seat in the Senate; and second, the resolution declaring that the existing Kellogg administration is the legal government of Louisiana.

A number of Republican Senators contended that those resolutions should be considered in precisely the reversed order, but the majority determined otherwise as above stated. Messrs. Freliughuysen, Morrill of Maine, Logan, Howe, Sargent, Wright, and Spencer, were appointed as a committee to revise the standing committees of the Senate and report to an adjourned meeting of the caucus

A similar committee consisting of Messrs Stevenson, Bogy, Saulsbury, Davis and Whyte, was appointed by the Democratic caucus to confer with the Republican committee as to the representation of the minority. They were instructed to inform the Republicans that the Democrats are entitled, in view of their increased numbers, and will expect to have an increased representation on the committees of nine members. Also that the minority should be accorded the chairmanship and control of one other committee besides the Committee on Private Land Claims, which they have hitherto held. It is generally understood that these propositions will be agreed to.

The Democratic caucuses being called merely for the purpose of organization, did not discuss any political questions to-day.

The Republican caucus, beyond determining the order of business, took no action binding on the votes of its members, in regard to the final disposition of the Louisiana question.

A Call for Bonds.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Secretary of the Treasury will issue a call this week for $50,000,000 of bonds on account of the sinking fund. Under the act of March 3, 1875, interest of called bonds will cease at the end of ninety days, but it is understood that bonds with accrued interest will be paid on presentation at any time after the call.

The Senate Committees.

The Senatorial Republican caucus committee have not yet completed the list of standing committees. The Democratic Senators have been informed that they will be allowed three members on all committees consisting of nine members and two on committees consisting of seven members. The chairmanship of all the committees will remain as during the late session, with the exception of those heretofore filled by outgoing Senators. The chairmanships are settled as a rule from those first on the list after the name of the retiring members. The succession of Senator Wright to the chairmanship of the Committee on Claims will leave Senator Boutwell as chairman of the Committee on Civil Service and Retrenchment, Hamlin chairman of the Postoffice Committee, Windom of Public Lands, Allison of Indian Affairs, Oglesby of Pensions, Hitchcock of Territories, West of Railroads, Sargent of Mines and Mining. It is probable that Conkling will be chairman of the Committee on Commerce, and Spencer of the District of Columbia.

The Revenue Law.

The President has signed the revenue act of the 3d inst. By instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury and Commissioners, the internal revenue act went into effect after midnight of the 2d inst. upon all articles except spirits, which were not charged the additional 20 cents or a to al of 90 cents per gallon until the 4th instant.

Various Matters.

Ex-President Johnson authorizes a statement that the letter recently published in the newspapers and telegrams, purporting to have emanated from him, criticising the Democratic party, and especially the New Hampshire Democrats, are forgeries. He has written no such letter or sent any telegrams on the subject.

The Postmaster General has, in accordance with the law, issued regulations under which Congressional Records, speeches of members, public documents and seeds for distribution may pass free through the mails, when under the frank of members or ex-members of Congress, for the period of nine months.

There will be a serenade and banquet to Andrew Johnson, probably on Monday evening.

Ex-Congressman Sheals of Alabama is to be nominated for Sixth Auditor of the Treasury.

LOUISIANA.

Arbitration to be Undertaken Immediately.

WASHINGTON, March 6—Until within a few days the plan of arbitration so far as the select committee on Louisiana affairs are concerned, was not positively fixed. It can now be stated that the case will be considered by the Wheeler committee, and that they will commence work as soon as possible, probably now on the way from New Orleans reach them, probably as early as Wednesday or Thursday of next week.

[Another despatch says the committee has decided to meet in New York at Mr. Phelps' office, probably on Thursday.]

The Situation in New Orleans.

A New Orleans special says to-day: the Conservatives remain here, holding an occasional caucus pending an adjustment of the difficulties by the Wheeler proposition. An extra session of the Legislature is probable.

NEW YORK, March 6.—The Herald's New Orleans despatch of last night says the situation may be condensed as follows:

Some of the members of the minority, who are still unpledged, believe that they can take their seats in the House without subscribing to the Wheeler resolution, while others quite as influential consider that the resolution is a sine qua non condition of their being seated, and they affirm that under the circumstances they will not approach the Legislature should an extra session be called. These unpledged members number about twenty, and a feeling exists in favor of allowing them to take their seats unpledged, inasmuch as it is the only impediment in the way, and at all events such a small minority could not effect the status of the Kellogg government.

ARKANSAS.

Clayton Counsels Acquiescence in Congress' Decision.

NEW YORK, March 6.—A special from Little Rock last night to the Herald says that the city and state have quieted down, and the startling events of the last week have left little trace except that the result is still the subject of universal comment. Gov. Garland is hourly in receipt of congratulatory letters and despatches from all parts of the country. The verdict is universally acquiesced in by Republicans as well as Democrats, and the contest which has been so prolonged and bitter is at an end. Friends of Gov. Brooks deserve credit for their action in quietly accepting the situation. Senator Clayton sent the following despatch to the Little Rock Republican:

"The action of Congress upon Arkansas affairs is conclusive. The validity of the new constitution, and the government established thereunder ought not any longer to be questioned any longer. It is the duty of Republicans to accept the verdict and render the same acquiescence which they would demand had the case been reversed."

This despatch is in harmony with the policy hitherto recommended by the Republicans.

It is reported that a conflict has arisen between Gov. Garland and the officers of the several land grant railroads in the state, growing out of the Governor's refusal to sign a bill exempting their lands from taxation.

FIRES.

Fire at South Framingham—Loss $35,000

BOSTON, March 7.—The factory of the American Butter Company at South Framingham was burned this morning. Loss $28,000; insurance $16,000. The Boot and Shoe Shank Company lose $4500. Surrounding property considerably damaged. Total loss $35,000.

Large Fire at Houston—Loss $50,000.

HOUSTON, March 6.—On Thursday night a large fire occurred in the business portion of this city, including Main street, which destroyed property valued at $50,000; partially insured.

A Museum Burned—Loss $60,000.

ALBANY, March 6.—The Albany Museum building was burned this evening. Loss $60,000.

Minor Fires.

Bigelow and Son's shoe factory in Paxton, Mass., was burned yesterday and several other buildings injured. Loss $28,000.

Fire originating in Baxley & Co.'s bank, Hempstead, Texas, destroyed that and adjoining buildings. Loss $20,000.

Geo. Gillies' agricultural implement works in Garronogue, Canada, were burned Saturday. Loss $15,000; no insurance.

The house of G. Schrv, near Sunbury, Pa., was burned Friday night. Two children perished and Mrs. Schry was badly burned.

METEOROLOGICAL

PROBABILITIES FOR THE NEXT TWENTY-FOUR HOURS.

WAR DEP'T, OFFICE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, Washington, D. C., Mar. 6, (1 A. M.)

For New England,

northerly winds, low pressure and snow, with clearing colder weather in the afternoon.

Senator Johnson Interviewed.

Very High Toned Declarations.

NEW YORK, March 7.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent sends a lengthy interview with Senator Johnson, who said: "I can give no pledge of my future course, I cannot say that I will act with one party or with the other. We have too much of party and I propose to bind myself in advance to no theory or party policy. I have never done so in the past and I do not intend to do so in the future. I shall support such measures as appear in my judgment best for the country, caring not whether it is supported by the Republicans. I will never place myself in a position where I must do a thing becaus it is a party measure or oppose a thing at a party's dictation. I place the country above party."

Mr. Johnson could not say whether he would participate in the debate on the Pinch back resolution. Being asked if he would not, in his new position, have an opportunity to pay off some old scores, and if he did not have a mass of facts against the leaders of the parties of to-day, he said: "Whatever I may have I do not say but I shall do nothing. My service in the Senate will not be a personal one. I do not represent myself, but Tennessee. The country now has nothing to do with my personal matters and with what has passed. I have no enemies to punish or friends to reward. I have buried resentments and have forgotton the ill treatment of individuals. If I can perform the duties that are now before me as conscientiously and clearly as I see them at this moment I shall accomplish as much as human vanity may seek to obtain."

Opposition to Civil Rights in Tennessee.

CHATTANOOGA, March 6.—The passage of the civil rights bill is causing considerable feeling everywhere. Two of the principal hotels here have given up their licenses and will run as private boarding houses. A white man tried to hire a negro to seat himself on at the table in the Readfield House dining room last night, but the negro was fearful of the consequence. There was a number of Kentuckians taking sup per at the time and would have pitched the negro out of the window if he had attempted it.

FOREIGN.

The Famine in Asia Minor.

Twenty Thousand Persons Perish.

LONDON, March 6.—Advices from Asia Minor state that the famine in that country is causing terrible distress. In one district 20,000 persons have died. The population before the famine was 52,000.

Further Coercive Measures Against German Catholics.

The Post's Berlin correspondent telegraphs that the adoption by the Prussian Parliament of the new ecclesiastical bill withdrawing state endowments from the Catholic clergy is considered secure. All parties except the Ultramontanes and the extreme conservatives have agreed to support it. There is reason to believe that the government is preparing another measure, requiring a test of oath from Catholics in the civil service, who number several thousands, and dismissing from the employment of the government those who fail to give satisfactory assurances of loyalty.

The French Cabinet.

PARIS, March 6.—It is said to-night that M. Dufaure will attempt to form a cabinet instead of M Buffet, who, though he will participate in negotiations for the formation of a ministry, was to remain President of the Assembly. M. Dufaure will take the Vice-Presidency of the Council and Ministry of Justice. M. Grivot, now Minister of Agriculture and Commerce, is mentioned for Minister of the Interior.

PARIS, March 7.—It is again asserted that M. Buffet will be Vice-Prident of the Ministerial Council if the negotiations now in progress are successful. The main obstacle as to the question who is to be Minister of the Interior has not been removed. The Left propose to submit an interpellation in the Assembly as to the cause of delay in the formation of a ministry.

The Canada Pacific Railroad to be Pushed Rapidly.

OTTAWA, March 6.—When the House was in committee of supply yesterday the premier, the Pacific railway item coming up, took the opportunity to lay before the members the present condition of the work and the future plans of the government in regard to it. He said the government was determined to push the work forward as rapidly as the circumstances of the country will allow, and will not commence work until they are thoroughly familiar with the country through which the road will pass and its probable cost, and are perfectly satisfied that their proposed course is in the general interest of the whole Dominion. The work is a national one and federal interests must take precedence of provincial ones. They will utilize the water stretches between this province and Manitoba and between Manitoba and the Rocky Mountains, but not forgetting that they are ultimately to build a railway through these districts. They have agreed to build a road from Lake Superior to the Pacific by the year 1890. They have also agreed to expend $2,000,000 per year in British Columbia till the work is finished and the route been surveyed.

Religious Persecution in Montreal.

TORONTO, March 6.—Father Chimiquy, who has embraced Protestantism, has received a number of threatening letters, one of them warning him on the peril of his life to desist from his ministerial labors in Montreal within eight days.

Foreign Notes.

The differences between the first and second kings of Siam have been adjusted.

The government claim some successes in the recent engagement with the Cuban insurgents. In one fight 32 of the latter were killed.

The London Observer says that the war rumor which appeared in the Calcutta English-man is without foundation.

Lieut. Gen. Sir James Hope Grant died in London, yesterday.

MINOR TELEGRAMS.

The price of gas in Lowell is to be reduced from $3 per 1000 feet to $2.15.

The city of Lawrence has won in a suit for $10,000 for damages for injuries caused by a defective sidewalk.

The steamer What Cheer, running from Wickford to Newport, R. I., got aground Friday night in a snow storm, but the passengers were all taken off in safety.

A concerted attempt to "squeeze" the gold market in New York Saturday, utterly failed.

It is stated that all the English steamer lines to New York will advance their steerage rates $5 to-day.

Indications are brighter for the early resumption of work in the mining districts of Pennsylvania. Probably the Union men will not hold out much longer, but will enter into a compromise on rates and go to work,

Brief Jottings.

Good morning, Mayor Richardson.
Alderman Ward of Lewiston, who is up for breaking into a shoe shop in the night time, isn't so entirely a nice person as some of the retiring aldermen of Portland.
A very pretty piece of sheet music entitled Centennial Chimes, by J. H. Milliken, is out.
It is reported that the author of "Beautiful Snow," has left the country in disguise.
Be sure and secure your tickets for Chandler's benefit ball.
Sir Marmaduke Mouser at City Hall, March 18.
Nine persons were baptized at the Chestnut street M. E. church yesterday, and four received into the church.
Geo. W. True & Co. have cleared the ice from their mills and their steamer commences her daily trips to day.
The funeral services of the late Abby M. Jeris will take place this afternoon at 2,30. Relatives and friends are invited. Burial at convenience of the family. If the weather should be stormy the services will take place to-morrow afternoon at same hour.
A little boy named Elliott Mitchell was badly hurt Saturday, by being run into by a sleigh while on his sled in the street. He was taken to his home on the corner of Park and Congress street.
Remember the complimentary benefit to be given to Cole at Lancaster Hall, Tuesday evening.
No one need stay at home this evening for want of a place to go. Among the places we notice, a meeting at the City Building, Sea of Ice, Mrs. Woolson's lecture, Ward's Opera House, D. S. D's, Bisbee Dramatic Club, and the meeting of the base ball club.
Betsey Baker and Mrs. Mouser at City Hall, March 18th.
The funeral of the late Thomas Norton will take place Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence 38 Lincoln street. Burial at convenience of the family.
The collection at Casco street church for the Widows' Wood Society Sunday, amounted to $28.75.
The members of the Portland Catholic Sunday School Union are requested to meet this evening. A punctual attendance is required.
There will be a temperance meeting at the Newbury street church this evening at 7½ o'clock. Speaking by Dr. Wood, J. R. McKelvey and others. The public are invited.

MUNICIPAL MATTERS.—Many of our city readers are interested in the result of the secret caucus of the Republican members elect of the city council Saturday afternoon. It is understood that all were present except Mr. Small of Ward 7, who is sick. H. I. Robinson was renominated as City Clerk; Mr. Hersey as Treasurer; Mr. Nowell, Auditor; Mr. Goodwin, Engineer; Mr. Merrill, Chief of Fire Department; Mr. Fox, Assessor; Mr Reed, City Solicitor; Harrison S. Cousins was nominated Street Commissioner by a vote of 12 to 5. Eli Wing got the nomination for city weigher. Messrs, C. H. Baker, F. E. Pray, Isaac Jackson, R. S. Maxcy and C. L. Gallison were nominated for Overseers of Poor, one of whom takes the place of Mr. Thurston, deceased. The Assistant Engineers of the Fire Department are the same as last year, except that Mr. Skillings is given the fourth place. The other nominations are nearly the same as last year. It is understood that the caucus was harmonious and that every member took the usual oath of secrecy.
There are several rumors about the Marshalship, etc.—one that Mayor Richardson will nominate Mr. Swett as Marshal and Captain McMahon and Mr. Hanson of Ward 7 as Deputies.
The Mayor's address will be short and devoted almost exclusively to financial matters. It is understood that he questions the good policy of expending so much money on streets, but thinks that the expenditure for drainage is necessary.
Mr. F. F. Hale was nominated Saturday for President of the Common Council and Mr. B. Barnes, Jr., for clerk.

BREAKING AND ENTERING.—About three o'clock Sunday morning the grocery store of Mr. Hobart on Brackett street was broken into and about $200 worth of goods taken. Word was at once sent to the police station at eight o'clock, and at ten o'clock the goods were recovered and the burglars arrested. Deputy Marshal Williams and officers Sterling and Stover visited the store and found on the floor a common looking brier-wood pipe, which one of the officers knew belonged to a man named Clark, living on Danforth street. The three officers visited Clark's house and there found the stolen articles as well as Clark and two men who gave their names as Whitney and McGoldrich. When the officers made known their business the three men and two women, who were present, announced their intention to fight, and fight they did for some time until the officers overpowered them and took them to the station in irons. The officers also found a lot of liquors which they had taken from a store on Briggs street, and $15 in money which they took from the till. This was sharp work on the part of the officers, as the pipe which they found on the floor was all the clew they had to work on.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL.—Sheriff Pennell and deputy Tukey detected two boys making an attempt to break jail Saturday night. It will be remembered that some time ago two boys made an attempt to burn the Reform School, of which they were inmates. They were arrested and are in jail awaiting trial. Saturday during the day the sheriff had intimated to him that an attempt was to be made to break jail. The sheriff in company with Mr. Tukey, prepared to watch proceedings. About ten o'clock they discovered these two boys at work in the top of their cell removing the bricks from around the ventilator. They had already taken the iron grate out and were working to get a hole large enough to pass out and up through on the roof. They stood their bedstead up on the end and by climbing on that were able to work on the ventilator. In their cells were found several spikes and nails which they used to pick the bricks with, also a large piece of iron. If they had not been discovered they would have been on the roof in a short time. From there they would have jumped into the snow and escaped. They were removed to the dungeon.

A HARD CASE.—Saturday night a man came to the station for lodging with both hands badly frozen. He had been traveling on foot and had frozen both hands badly several days before. He was in great pain and could not rest a moment. Yesterday he went to a physician and had several of his fingers amputated. Last evening he was in great agony and there was no one to do anything for him. It was said that he could not be taken to the hospital as it required a permit from one of the overseers of the poor, and so the man remained at the lodging room at the station, a place every way unfit for a well man, to say nothing of a man who is dangerously ill. The police station is for criminals, not for the sick, and some arrangements should be made so that when a stranger is taken sick he can be taken to the hospital.

VARIETY WEDDING.—The friends of Rev. S. F. Wetherbee and wife, from Saco, Biddeford, Portland and Bath, visited them at their house in Saco on the evening of March 4th, it being the 35th anniversary of their marriage. About 150 were present, in spite of the severe storm and blockading snows. The occasion was one of much interest to all, and especially to the pastor and his wife, who received many rich and elegant presents, amounting in value to nearly $300. A beautiful cane, ebony and gold, was presented to the pastor, bearing the inscription beautfully engraved:
"To Chaplain S. F. Wetherbee by the Tem. Reform Club, Saco, 1875."

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—The following is the programme for the celebration of St. Patrick's day as far as it has been arranged. In the morning there will be a grand parade through the principal streets of the city. Both bands have been engaged for the occasion. In the evening a lecture will be delivered at City Hall by Rev. Father Moriarty of Albany, N. Y. At the close of the lecture the children of the Catholic schools will give a concert.

Personal.

We understand that a large number of our prominent citizens have tendered a complimentary benefit to Mr. James A. Arnold of the Museum, as an evidence of their appreciation of his talents as an actor and his worth as a gentleman.
We understand that Bishop Healey will arrive in this city to-day to arrange for the observance of Holy Week.

STEAMER MOVEMENTS.—The Allan mail steamer Moravian, Captain Graham, sailed for Liverpool Saturday night, with 6 cabin and 20 steerage passengers and a full cargo. Among the cabin passengers was C. E. Cross of this city.
The next steamer of this line to arrive is the Sarmatian, Capt. Aird.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Another Smashup on the Grand Trunk Three Persons Severely Injured, and Two Locomotives Smashed Up—Full Particulars of the Disaster, etc., etc.

Another accident occurred on the Grand Trunk road Saturday, which was caused by the engineer of a special, or wild engine as it is called, running on the time of a regular train. The following are the particulars as gleaned by a PRESS reporter, who was at the scene of the accident soon after it occurred:
The regular 7 o'clock passenger train from Portland left here on time, and was closely followed by a special engine driven by A. Jackson. Mr. Jackson's orders were to keep a certain distance from the passenger train and to look out for all regular trains. At Yarmouth he met the regular Montreal train, and received orders to resign his special engine to Mr. Noyes, the driver of the Montreal train. Thus Mr. Jackson returned to this city to attend his wife who was ill, and Mr. Noyes continued on in charge of the special engine, with orders to look out for regular trains. When about a mile and a half this side of North Yarmouth, Noyes discovered through the dense fog the regular Lewiston train almost upon him. He whistled down brakes, reversed his engine and jumped from the cab, as did his fireman. The sound of the whistle started the engineer of the Lewiston train, Oliver P. Cummings, who whistled down brakes, reversed his engine and jumped from the engine, as did his fireman. The brakes slacked the speed of the trains slightly, but they struck very solid, throwing both locomotives from the track and staving them up badly. None of the cars of the Lewiston train were thrown off and the passengers were net injured in the least.
Mr. Cummings had his leg badly broken in jumping from the wreck, and the baggage master, Mr. P. C. Evans, had his arm broken in everal places; he also received serious injuries about the back. At the time of the accident he was at his brake in front of the baggage car and was badly jammed. A Mr. Whitehouse, a fireman on the Boston & Maine road, was riding in the cab at the time of the accident, and was seriously injured. One of his legs was completely torn from his body and left in the cab. He belongs in Auburn and had been there on a short visit. Mr. Tryon, the second brakeman, was at his brake at the time of the accident, but strange to state was not injured in the least.
Drs. Burbank and Bates were called to attend the injured men, who were at once taken to Lewiston. The physicians considered the cases of Evans and Waterhouse as very critical, but thought Mr. Cummings was not dangerously injured.
As soon as possible after the accident one of the brakemen was sent back to North Yarmouth to telegraph to this city for aid, and to prevent the regular freight train running into the wreck. On the receipt of the news here a wrecking train under the charge of conductor McCartle was dispatched to the scene of the disaster. The train started at 9.55 a. m., and at 5 p. m., the track was clear. The wreck of the engines was placed upon trucks and brought to Yarmouth, while the "splinters" were put on board one of the cars and brought to this city.
The regular afternoon train did not leave here until half past four. The accident did not detain the train with the mails for the English steamers and it arrived here at 6 o'clock.
The locomotive of the Lewiston train is nearly useless, as the boiler burst at the time of the collision.
Conductor J. S. Pratt of the road, who was a passenger on the Lewiston train, furnished our reporter with the full particulars of the disaster.
Later—A special despatch from Lewiston announces that Mr. Whitehouse died at his home in Auburn, Saturday night. He leaves a wife and several children. It is not thought that Mr. Evans, the baggage master, can recover.
A coroners' inquest will be held this morning in Lewiston over the body of Mr. Whitehouse.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

FIRST BAPTIST.

The sermon was delivered by the pastor Rev. Dr. Shailer. Text, Rom. X, 4: For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.
Righteousness by the deeds of the law, and righteousness by faith in Christ, have for ages, divided the religious opinions of men and given rise to most animated theological discussion. The two doctrines, as a basis of justification and salvation, are antagonistic to each other and have been so regarded by their respective advocates. Arguments upon either side have been arranged with much ability and skill, and some of them are the most masterly and profound which have been framed into words, or found utterance in human language. The noblest intellects have been employed in the discussions and by men of large and earnest hearts. Among all those arguments, there is none more thorough, more logical, more convincing, or more just in its conclusions, than that which is contained in this letter of Paul to the Romans. It is a plea for the gospel method of salvation by taith, and as an argument is clear, full and exhaustive. For eighteen centuries, like an impregnable fortress is has stood before the world in its massive strength and grandeur. And though often assailed, it has not been overthrown, or its strength in any respect weakened. It is in that argument, that we find the words before us. In the immediate connection, Paul was speaking of the Jews, his own nation. He spoke of them tenderly as well as truthfully. He earnestly desired their salvation and sought it. He bore witness to their zeal for God, but says it is not according to knowledge, which means it was not an intelligent zeal, founded upon correct views of God and religious truth. He then shows why it was not, and wherein it was deficient. And in illustrating this point he uses this language: "For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth." The proposition is an important one, and around it cluster the sublimest truths of the gospel and the dearest hopes of believers. It deserves, therefore, our candid and earnest consideration. Perhaps there is no better way of arriving at its true meaning, than to notice separately the several points which the proposition contains:
1. Christ, the end of the law. How are we to interpret and understand such language? For on this everything in the controversy depends. By the law it is generally conceded that Paul referred to the Mosaic law, which God by Moses gave to the Jewish nation. This law embraced three divisions. One part of it was what may be termed civil law, designed to control the civil affairs of the nation, and was to be in force so long as they maintained a distinct nationality. Another part was the ceremonial law, regulating the religious worship and rites of the nation. This was largely typical in its character, and to be in force till the things typified should be realities. There the shadow was to give place to the substance. And another part was, what is termed the moral law given to the nation not as Jews, but as moral beings, designed to be always in force, and to control the conduct of all mankind. Of the ceremonial law, Christ was obviously the end, for its sacrifices, and rites all pointed to him, and were to find their termination in him. But Paul was discussing, not the ceremonial, but the moral law. And it was this with its requirements, its sanctions and its penalties, of which Christ is here represented as being the end. Its demands were met by him, and satisfied so far as he in his humanity was concerned and by virtue of his sufferings and death he made provision for its end to others.
2. To whom is Christ the end of the law. To every one that believeth. Paul says: He made provision ample for all who would, in the terms proposed avail themselves of it, and accept of pardon. It is easy to perceive, however, that there is a wide difference between having provision made for us, and the availing ourselves of that provision. So in this case. The provision was to be made available to mankind by faith, believing in Him. This was the condition. And hence the limitation in this clause to every one that believeth. By believing in Christ our relation to the law is changed. Our union to Him is so close, so vital, that we are not under condemnation by the law, as He is not, etc.
3. For righteousness. These words in this connection have a significance which must not be overlooked. Nothing in all this is done with injustice. There is a righteous regard for the law in every respect, and therefore it is fully honored when Christ is the end of it to the believer. Faith is counted to a believer for righteousness, as it was to Abraham, &c. These several points of the discourse were argued and illustrated quite fully and with much clearness and precision.

THE MUSEUM.—This evening the long-promised "Sea of Ice" will be brought out at the Museum. Mr. Richards, the scene painter, promises some wonderful effects, the like of which have never been seen in Portland. The cast is an excellent one, Miss Cameron assuming the role of Ogarita, and Mr. Arnold that of Carlos.

MRS. WOOLSON'S LECTURE.—We are confident that our readers will not fail to attend the lecture by Mrs. Abba Goold Woolson at Congress Hall this evening. It need not be added that Mrs. Woolson is a native of Portland, and was educated in our public schools.

BASE BALL.—This evening the Maine State Base Ball Association will hold their annual meeting at the rooms of the Resolutes, in Market Square. A full attendance of the Resolutes is desired.

Town Reports.

DEERING.—The report of the financial officers of Deering for the year ending Feb. 22d, shows that the amount of tax assessed was $38,387.73 (including $195 dog tax) on a valuation of $1,869,723. The number of polls was 888, taxed at $3 each. The rate of taxation was $19 on $1000. Of the total tax assessed $22,400 remained for town purposes after paying state and county tax. Among the expenditures are the following: Poor farm $3,975.56, roads $7,219.55, snow bills $609.33, schools $3,899.35, free high school $727.01, interest $5,006.06, out door poor $238.51, discount on taxes $1,623.88, hydrants and engine houses $450. The town received from the various state school funds and taxes $2,236 02. The resources of the town are $15,697.38, and the liabilities $12,375.83, leaving a balance of assets of $3,321 55. This amount of course does not include $42,650 of bonded debt mostly bearing 6 per cent. interest. The selectmen estimate that $22,000 will be required for town expenses next year. The school committee report the condition of the schools more encouraging than last spring. Schools have been prosperous. The town is struggling to get clear of the old district system. She whole number of scholars is 1188. The average attendance for the three terms was 418, or about 36 per cent. of the number of scholars in town. The annual town meeting takes place to-day.

GORHAM.—Town meeting was held last Monday. The valuation of the town last year was $1,317,808; number of polls 679; rate of taxation $1.85 on $100; poll tax $3. The amount of money raised was $26,413.44, of which $16,862.33 was for municipal purposes. The town has paid for support of poor $1,061.47, but the poor farm has paid its bills, the salary of the superintendent and $20 over. The expenditures for roads were $3,893.92, and for bridges $752 76. The town raised for the support of schools $2800 and received from the state $1,833.26. The whole number of scholars is 1066. There was an average attendance of 418. The supervisor reports the schools as prosperous as can be expected under the present imperfect system.

WINDHAM.—The town meeting was held last Monday. The valuation of the town was $822,909. The amount of money raised was $17,669.76, of which $6,389 18 was for state and cosnty taxes. The indebtedness of the town Feb. 20th was $22,558 24. The amount of money railed for schools was $2100, and the amount received from state tax and funds was $1,320.50; local funds $146.40, total $3,564.90. The whole number of scholars was 765. The school committee complain that school districts build school houses with hired money and it takes ten per cent. of their school funds, raised for the support of schools, to pay the debt. One district expended 22 per cent, of its money in digging a well and other incidental expenses

FALMOUTH.—The annual meeting was held last Monday. Total valuation of the town $686,935, number of polls 342, rate of taxation $2.20 per $100. Total amount of money raised for town purposes $11,764.53. Money was expended as follows: Bridges $228.20, breaking roads $661.13, roads $873.51, poor bills $960.84; balance against the town farm $741.55; town debt $4,391.61; interest $1000. The town has outstanding notes amounting to $11,187.01, and its availabilities being $2,329.26 over its liabilities, the actual debt is $8,957.75. The town school funds amounted to $2,972.87, of which $2000 was raised by town tax. Mr. Moulton, the supervisor, says that the schools are not so prosperous as in some former years, on account of the employment of so many inexperienced teachers. He urges the town to avail itself of the free high school act.

THE PORTLAND BRIDGE.—The attack of an Argus correspondent upon Mayor Wescott was sharply criticised Saturday in many places as unjust, malicious and without foundation. On enquiry, it was found that the city did not build any more of the bridge than belonged to it. The Eastern Railroad Co. built from the "draw" to the upper line of Commercial street, two-thirds of the whole distance. It was estimated that the part built by the city would cost $6,500, but it has only cost $4,494 exclusive of the land. The bridge is forty feet wide, while the old county way, which the city still holds, is but thirty feet wide. The grade over the old way would be almost 12 feet to 100, while the new route is but 8½. In addition to this, by the present arrangement, the city gets a perpetual way at grade, fifty feet wide, from the bridge in front of the docks, coming out to Commercial street opposite State street. The new arrangement is the result of long negotiations and was agreed to by the committee on streets and the county commissioners.

THE HOWARD TROUPE.—This evening the troupe from the Howard Athenæum appear at Music Hall, and offer a promising programme. The performance begins with "Arrah Na Pogue," in which Marie Bates takes the part of Arrah, and Laura Phillips that of Katie. This will be succeeded by a novel variety entertainment, in which Cotton & Birdue appear in song and dance, Harry Bloodgood in an Ethopian interlude, Luke Schoolcraft and George Coes in "Alabama Homes," and Maffitt in the comic trick pantomime of "Robinson Crusoe." The company will be here two nights.

BISBEE DRAMATIC CLUB.—This evening by special request the Bisbee Dramatic Club will repeat their entertainment given last week. The dramas "The Tempter" and "Never Say Die" will be presented, the entertainment closing with the burlesque opera entitled "Arabella the Fair." The very best of music will be provided for the occasion. This is a dramatic entertainment that is worthy of patronage, and those who attend will be fully repaid for their trouble.

GRAND ARMY HALL.—This evening the D. S. D's will give the last of their dramatic entertainments at Grand Army Hall. The pleasing comedy entitled "Doing for the Best" will be presented. The entertainment will close with the laughable farce entitled "Done on Both Sides." Chandler will furnish the music. The entertainment is for the benefit of the Swedenborgian society, and the house should be crowded.

ALLEN MISSION.—It is very encouraging to all lovers of moral reform to know of the good results of the protracted meetings at the Allen Mission last evening. The chapel was filled and the audience listened very attentively to the interesting addresses of several gentlemen and ladies. A similar meeting will be held this evening, to which the public are cordially and earnestly invited.

Business Notes.

The Whig estimates that the 225 men and 80 horses at work on the East branch of the Penobscot from Grand Lake dam to Third Lake and Trout Brook, covering a distance of fifteen miles, will put upon the ice 9,400,000 feet.
A Rockport correspondent of the Camden Herald says: "It begins to look now as if the business of lime-burning, which has been at a stand still during the winter, will soon be resumed. Large quantities of wood casks, &c., are being collected, ready for use."
The Somerset Railroad is now open to Madison Mills, and is equipped with two good locomotives, sixteen freight and one elegant passenger car, and during this month will put upon the track a first-class postal, baggage and express car. The road will be opened to North Anson the coming season.

REPORT OF THE CONDIT

POETRY.

Wishing and Having.

BY E. H. STODDARD.

If to wish and to have were one, my dear,
You would be sitting now
With not a care in your tender heart,
Not a wrinkle upon your brow;
The clock of time would go back with you
All the years you have been my wife,
Till its golden hands had pointed out
The happiest hour of your life;
I would stop them at that immortal hour;
The clock should no longer run;
You could not be sad, and sick and old—
If to wish and to have were one.

You are not here in the winter, my love,
The snow is not whirling down;
You are in the heart of the summer woods,
In your dear old sea-side town;
A patter of little feet in the leaves,
A beautiful boy at your side;
He is adhering flowers in the shady nooks—
It was but a dream that he died!
Keep hold of his hand and sing to him,
No mother under the sun,
Has such a seraphic child as yours—
If to wish and to have are one.

Methinks I am with you there, dear wife,
In that old house by the sea;
I have flown to you as the bluebird flies
To his mate in the poplar tree,
A sailor's hammock hangs at the door,
You swing in it, book in hand;
A boat is standing in for the beach;
Its keel now grates on the sand;
Your brothers are coming—two manly men,
Whose lives have only begun;
Their days will be long in the land, dear heart—
If to wish and to have are one.

If to wish and to have were one, ah me!
I would not be old and poor,
But a young and prosperous gentleman,
With never a dun at the door;
There would be no past to bewail, my love,
There would be no future to dread;
Your brothers would be live men again,
And my boy would not be dead.
Perhaps it will all come right at last;
It may be when all is done,
We shall be together in some good world,
Where to wish and to have are one.

THE FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

Prof. Arnold's Lecture on Milk.

We do not know how milk is secreted, how it comes from the blood—there is no caseine in the blood. Milk is not all fluid; it contains globules or sacs which are fatty substances contained in a pellicle or their fleshy covering. In their composition blood and milk are somewhat alike; the former contains fibrine and albumen, the latter caseine and albumen. Where there is a large secretion of milk, there will be a large flow of blood to the udder, and hence in selecting cows we look at the veins as well as the escutcheon and udder. In its structure the udder is cellular, the cells are about the size of pin heads; it has been ascertained by exact measurement that the globules in milk are of the same size as these cells, and therefore it is quite probable that they are secreted from the udder. The first among the many changes which take place in milk occurs in the udder. By absorption the udder is constantly absorbing the fatty part of the milk, and therefore the shorter time it remains there the richer it will be in butter globules. The speaker's own experiments have shown that forty per cent. more cream is obtained from a milk drawn from the cow once in three hours than from that which remains unmilked twelve hours. It is therefore better to milk as often as we can conveniently.

The globules in milk rise to the top, forming cream. The butter-maker endeavors to remove the pellicle without breaking the fat, as when broken it becomes grease. The globules are of different sizes; a heavy covering may weigh down the fat inside, and thus affect the rising of the cream. Large and small ones are found in the milk of all cows, and their size varies not only in different breeds and animals, but in the same cows at different seasons of the year. The large ones rise to the surface first, as the covering on the small sacs is of about the same thickness as theirs, and therefore keeps them down longer; and also in rising the small ones have to displace more milk in proportion to their size. Fats also expand under heat more than water, and shrink more, and in this way the rising of cream is affected. Cream is composed of layers, the large globules at the top, and the smallest, which rise last, at the bottom. From milk containing the largest and most uniform globules we get cream the soonest, and the best butter; as when they are unequal in size the larger are broken first and turned to grease before the smaller are broken.

In Jersey milk the globules are very large and nearly uniform in size; they rise readily and at the same time, and are easily churned together. Ayrshire milk has a few large globules but many small ones, and it is very difficult to get them to rise, and for the same reason it is not easy to churn good butter from their cream. In the milk from Devon and Dutch cows, they are of medium size, but quite uniform, so that their milk is good for butter. The poorest skim milk comes from Jersey, and the best from Ayrshire

The specific gravity of milk and cream is very nearly the same. At a temperature of 50°, cream rises slowly and probably will not all rise—heat it up to 70° and it will rise rapidly. In cheese factories if you subject the whey to a strong heat for two hours, the butter will all be up.

The germs which get into milk from impure water, bad feed, or by exposing cows to the hot sun of July and August, hinder the cream from rising. Anything of a putrefactive nature will develope in milk and hold on to the globules and prevent their rising. Tainted milk is always feverish, the pellicles begin to decay and adhere together, and this condition you can discover by the microscope. Milk from distillery slops contains germs which cling to the pellicle and check the rising of the globule. Cows on low and swampy lands get from bad water these germs.

A gentleman in Ithaca, N. Y. who bottled his milk for winter use, found that milk from low ground feed would not keep till winter. Rank clover draws from the earth germs which are injurious to milk. In making an examination of cow's milk where the cream appeared too adhesive, Dr. Law of Cornell University discovered the presence of germs, plant forms resembling algae, with some blood and the substance known as frog spittle; and all this was traced back through the blood to the impure water which the animal drank. Milk will not keep when sour food is used, because the acidity passes into the blood and thence into the milk, hastening fermentation.

Animal odor in milk is very troublesome, especially at cheese factories—one can well infect a whole vat, and the cheese made from it will soon be destroyed. Its nature was long unknown, but recently it has been discovered to be a very subtile volatile oil; at a temperature of 50° it remains in the milk, at 65° it is driven off; if the milk is cooled too rapidly it will remain in it, but will be discovered whenever the milk is heated. Volatile oils that come from the sweet grasses are not objectionable, and we retain them that they may give a pleasant flavor to butter. By many persons the evils arising from this odor or oil, are attributed to animal heat; this however is an erroneous idea, as animal heat does not differ from any other heat, and is no more injurious.

Milk cans for factory use should have an opening in the cover protected by wire cloth, and surrounded with a collar to retain the milk which may be shaken out in transportation. Experiment has shown that milk thus protected and carried four or five miles to the factory, has given less trouble than that received from the immediate neighborhood. By its complete aeration, all the animal odor has been removed.

Cheese making is a process of fermentation, and this is similar to, but not the same as putrefaction; it is the growth of germs which multiply and develop into blue mould. A single germ has been found in milk with fifty stalks, each with a head containing thousands of seeds which continue to produce their kind. Rennet coagulates milk, turning it into cheese, because it contains blue mould. The germs in rennet cure cheese; it is a digestive process, you digest milk with the gastric juice of the calf. Rennet not only changes milk to curd, but continues to act on the cheese after it is manufactured.

Some factories are making butter and cheese from the same milk; great progress and improvement have been made in the manufacture of skimmed milk cheese; as frequently manufactured the article has been of a very inferior quality. The large amount of food contained in skimmed milk ought not to be wasted; to every pound of butter twelve and one half pound of nutriment is wasted, if the skimmed milk is not utilized. Several factories are now trying to prevent this waste with a good prospect of success. When we make skimmed milk cheese which will dissolve in the mouth, we have taken a great step in advance; this has been done and can be again. One great trouble in the manufacture of such cheese has been in the curing of it; this we can overcome in part by stimulating it with more rennet. It also requires a temperature of 70° or 80° In New York and elsewhere good cheese of this kind has been made with three-fourths of the cream out, that sold for whole milk cheese. At Elgin, Ill., during the last year cheese has been made from half skim milk combined with oil from rendered rancid butter, at the rate of one pound of oil to one hundred of milk. The product from this combination when six weeks old has proved to be a good wholesome palatable cheese, which gives satisfaction to consumers. This process seems to be really an improvement, and yet it is dangerous whenever managed by dishonest or unskilled operators.

Freezing cream should be avoided if possible; a little freezing of the milk may do no harm, but if the cream is frozen hard the covering of the globules is broken and the butter damaged.

By scalding milk, all the germs are destroyed and it will keep from 24 to 36 hours longer; when scalded at a temperature of 130° it will produce a little more butter, and yet the practice is not to be recommended as you thereby drive out the volatile oils which give the flavor or aroma.

In carrying milk to the factories, keep the night and morning milk in separate cans. Sometimes in hot weather it will be necessary to cool the milk at night. This can ordinarily be done by exposure in open vessels to the night air.

When the cream rises on the night milk, turn on the morning milk and it will wash the cream in, or you may leave out the night milk, using only the cream, which is the Stilton method.

I should recommend cheese factories to connect therewith the manufacture of butter; the average product of the factories is better than the butter of private dairies. If however, no use was made of the skimmed milk there, it might be more profitable to make butter in September and afterward at home, in order that it might be consumed there.

In churning, the best results are obtained by a yielding pressure rather than by friction; and therefore a dash churn is better than a rotary churn, as the tendency of the latter is to crush the globules into grease. With a rotary churn or a small dash, you get two or three gatherings of globules from one mess. The dash should be three-quarters the diameter of the churn, without any holes in it, and concave on the bottom, so that when it falls upon the cream it will be separated from it by an air cushion, which will prevent too rough breaking of the globules. By this method you cannot get a second churning from the same cream. When the butter comes, don't lift the dash out; put in cold water and gather the granules together, thus saving all working out of the buttermilk by hand, and only kneeding enough to get the salt in. Churn at 58 deg. with the cream a little sour, about 35 strokes to the minute, and butter will come in an hour. In a creamery, dashes of different sizes have been tried, and while one three-quarters the diameter of the churn brought butter in an hour, one half that size required more than two hours, and then butter was found in churning the buttermilk. As a dash of large size will work hard, it will not be best to force it entirely through the cream; and in all large dairies some additional power like that of dogs or sheep, or wind, water or steam is frequently used in the manufacture of butter.

We close our report of this lecture although not complete, and possibly slightly inaccurate, by endorsing the following statement from "The Mirror and Farmer." "Probably no man ever imparted in the same time to the same number of hearers at an agricultural meeting in this state, so much information as did Prof. Arnold in the two hours he spoke."

How to Pile Lumber.

Lumber, being properly manufactured, may be so piled as to prejudice its sale one or two dollars per thousand feet. Great care should be taken to build the piles so that the front cross piece shall be higher than the back and each in succession be overlapped, or laid out a trifle beyond the previous one. A pile twenty feet high should incline outward from base to top at least eighteen inches or two feet. This will prevent storms from beating in, or snow from resting to melt and form ice, as would be the case if the inclination was the other way. The sides of the pile should be carried up plumb, and it is no deceit, if pains be taken to present the best edges to the view. A great error is often committed in the neglect to place one cross piece directly on top of another, so that the weight shall rest solidly on each, and on the foundation timber. If the courses be placed a little forward or back of the previous one the weight above will twist, warp and perhaps break the lumber, and at the best cannot fail to give a buyer a bad impression. Piles should never be placed less than three feet apart, and boards in the pile should always be between them. If those whose habit has been to pile close, will experiment on open piling, they will soon be convinced that the quicker preparation of the lumber for use will relieve them from a large interest account.—N. Y. Times.

To Make a Switch of Hair Combings.

Pick out the hairs, and place them with the root ends together, until you have a lock of fifty or sixty hairs. Wet it to keep it smooth. Prepare several before you begin to weave the switch. For convenience I made mine on a pine bookcase. I drove three tacks two inches apart in the edge, the upper one at the end of a shelf, and another twelve or fifteen inches to the right, in the edge of the shelf. Take some small silk thread or twist, fasten one end around the tack at the right, then wind once around the upper tack at the left, then once around the middle tack, then back around the tack at the right, and fasten around the lower tack at the left. Take a lock of hair, wet it, and beginning at the right side, pass the root end under the lower thread, over the middle and under the upper, then down over the upper, under the middle, and over the lower thread, as in darning a stocking, then up and down again leaving as little as possible of the root end out. Then separate the threads with the left hand, and with the thumb and forefinger of the right hand, draw the woven part, up tight. After the switch is finished draw the woven part up as tight as you can. Then take out the tacks and fasten the thread. Then roll the woven part up spirally, so that the hair will be on the outside and cover the woven part or stem. —Western Rural.

Wet Boots.

A friend writes from Europe: What an amount of discomfort wet boots entail, to be sure; and how well we all recall the fretful efforts we have now and then made to draw on a pair of hard baked ones which were put by the fire over night to dry. Damp and adhesive within, they are without stiff and unyielding as horn. Once on, they are sort of modern stocks, destructive of all comfort, and entirely demoralizing to the temper. The following simple device will rob the cold, wet barn-yard, of a slushy winter or spring evening, of half its promise of discomfort for the next morning:—

When the boots are taken off, fill them quite full with dry oats. This grain has a great fondness for damp, and will rapidly absorb the least vestige of it from the wet leather. As it takes up the moisture it swells and fills the boots with a tightly-fitting last, keeping its form good, and drying the leather without hardening it. In the morning shake out the oats and hang them in a bag near the fire to dry, ready for the next wet night, draw on the boots and go happily about the day's work.—American Agriculturist.

Mush.

We sometimes boil mush for supper and put away a good crock full for future use. For breakfast put a generous lump of good butter in a pan on the stove; when well melted and pretty hot put in some cold, broken-up mush, heat rapidly, stirring frequently, and when thoroughly hot serve on a hot dish and you'll find it exceedingly good. Do not make the mush too stiff when boiling it. We prefer it to the fried slices.

Apple Pudding.

One pint of bread crumbs soaked well and soft in a quart of milk, with two or three well-beaten eggs and one or two apples chopped fine; stir all together and bake in buttered pans. Wine dip with it.—Ger. Telegraph.

VEGETINE

Strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restoring the liver and kidneys to healthy action, invigorating the nervous system.

VEGETINE

Is not a vile, nauseous compound, which simply purges the bowels, but a safe, pleasant remedy which is sure to purify the blood and thereby restore the health.

VEGETINE

Is now prescribed in cases of Scrofula and other diseases of the blood, by many of the best physicians, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.

VEGETINE

Does not deceive invalids into false hopes by purging and creating a fictitious appetite, but assists nature in clearing and purifying the whole system, leading the patient gradually to perfect health.

VEGETINE

Was looked up to as an experiment for some time by some of our best physicians, but those most incredulous in regard to its merit are now its most ardent friends and supporters.

VEGETINE

Instead of being a puffed-up medicine has worked its way up to its present astonishing success by actual merit in curing all diseases of the blood, or whatever nature.

VEGETINE

Says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE

Is acknowledged and recommended by physicians and apothecaries to be the best purifier and cleanser of the blood yet discovered, and thousands speak in its praise who have been restored to health.

PROOF

What is Needed.

BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1871.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—About one year since I found myself in a feeble condition from general debility. VEGETINE was strongly recommended to me by a friend who had been much benefited by its use. I procured the article and after using several bottles was restored to health and discontinued its use. I feel quite confident that there is no medicine superior to it for those complaints for which it is especially prepared, and would cheerfully recommend it to those who feel that they need something to restore them to perfect health. Respectfully yours,

U. L. PETTINGILL.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—The two bottles of VEGETINE furnished me by your agent, my wife has used with great benefit.

For a long time she has been troubled with dizziness and costiveness; these troubles are now entirely removed by the use of VEGETINE.

She was also troubled with Dyspepsia and General Debility; and has been greatly benefited.

NATICK, Mass., June 1st, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—Through the advice and earnest persuasion of Rev. E. S. Best, of this place, I have been taking VEGETINE for Dyspepsia, of which I have suffered for years.

I have used only two bottles and already feel myself a new man. Respectfully,

DR. J. W. CARTER.

Report from a Practical Chemist and Apothecary.

BOSTON, Jan. 1, 1874.

Dear Sir—This is to certify that I have sold at retail 154 1-3 dozen (1852 bottles) of your VEGETINE since April 12, 1870 and can truly say that it has given the best satisfaction of any remedy for the complaints for which it is recommended, that I ever sold. Scarcely a day passes without some of my customers testifying to its merits on themselves or their friends. I am perfectly cognizant of several cases of Scrofulous Tumors being cured by VEGETINE alone in this vicinity. Very respectfully yours,

MANHOOD, WOMANHOOD AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

A Book for Every Man.

JUST published by the Peabody Medical Institute; a new edition of the celebrated medical work entitled SELF-PRESERVATION. It treats upon MANHOOD, how lost, how regained and how perpetuated, cause and cure of ESSENTIAL DEBILITY, Impotency, Premature Decline in Man, Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Losses (nocturnal and diurnal), Nervous and Physical Debility, Hypochondria, Gloomy forebodings, Mental Depression, Loss of Energy, Haggard Countenance, Confusion of Mind and Loss of Memory, Impure State of the Blood, and all diseases arising from the ERRORS OF YOUTH, or the indiscretions or excesses of mature years.

It is indeed, a book for every man, young and middle-aged men in particular. 300 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth, illustrated, price only $1.

A Book for Every Woman,

Entitled, SEXUAL PHYSIOLOGY OF WOMAN, AND HER DISEASES; or, Woman Treated of Physiologically and Pathologically, in health and disease, from Infancy to Old Age. 350 pages, bound in beautiful French cloth. With the very best prescriptions for prevailing diseases. Price $2.00.

A Book for Everybody.

The Peabody Institute has also just published a new book treating exclusively of NERVOUS AND MENTAL DISEASES, more than two hundred royal octavo pages, twenty elegant engravings, bound in substantial muslin, price $2.

Either of the above books are sent by mail to any part of the world, closely sealed, postage paid on receipt of price. Or all three books sent to one address at the same time on receipt of only $4. Here is offered over eight hundred and fifty pages of the ablest and best printed and bound popular medical science and literature, on subjects of vital importance to all, for only $4—lately enough to pay for mailing. It should be borne in mind that these great Medical Works are published by the Peabody Medical Institute, an honored institution, established with large funds for the sole purpose of doing good.

These are, beyond all comparison, the most extraordinary works on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the Married or Single of either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained, and many matters of the most important and interesting character are introduced, to which no allusion even can be found in any other works in our language. All the New Discoveries of the author, whose experience is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any man, are given in full. No person should be without these valuable books. The press throughout the country, the clergy and the medical faculty generally highly extol these extraordinary and useful works. The most fastidious may read them.

MEDICAL.

CURE THAT

CATARRH

GERMAN

OR

WILL BE

YOUR DOOM!

Yes, the medical records show plainly that in nine cases out of ten the disease known as Catarrh was the forerunner of Consumption, which, when fastened on a person, is like the grasp of the hideous anaconda. There is no escape until death relieves them from its torture and they are laid in the grave. Friends may say they died of Consumption. 'Tis FALSE.

Catarrh killed them.

And if you doubt the fact, look back and call to mind how it was first a cold, then Catarrh, and last Consumption. Why will people suffer when by the use of the remedy,

RÆDER'S

GERMAN SNUFF,

this horrid complaint can be cured. It may not be generally known, but most of our leading Physicians are prescribing this wonderful remedy, well knowing that its results are so certain that by its use the person will be brought back to perfect health. An old Doctor says:

RÆDER'S

"GERMAN SNUFF

is a perfect cure, and I know of nothing better for Catarrh." Another well-known M. D. writes as follows; "When one complains to me of a bad Cold or a Heavy Head, I at once advise them to procure a supply of

RÆDER'S

GERMAN SNUFF.

for in a practice of near twenty years I have daily been pleased with its results." A Doctor whose word is authority on all medical questions, says: "I call the compound known to the world as a blessing to mankind, for its low price of 35 cents places it within the reach of all." We might bring forward hundreds of testimonials, but of what avail? Its proud record is enough, and the thousands of people who have been by the use of

RÆDER'S

GERMAN SNUFF

RÆDER'S

saved as it were from the grave, are living witnesses of its great virtue. At this season of the year, when people, by undue exposure and the sudden changes in the weather, are liable to catch cold, we advise them to carry in the pocket a box of

RÆDER'S

GERMAN SNUFF

so when they suddenly take cold and feel all the organs of the nose and head stopped up, they can promptly take a remedy to at once loosen the mucous, which if allowed to stay becomes and passing to the lungs and stomach, simply adds that which time may never remove, for the system has become poisoned, and all because the individual did not take proper care at the commencement. How often do we hear people say, "My head is thick and I cannot think." Don't you know what is the trouble? You have Catarrh; it has just commenced to take possession of your body. Now, if you are wise, you will take a few pinches of the

HEAD,

RÆDER'S

GERMAN SNUFF

and rid your nose and head of that which in time will kill you. Do you doubt it? Well, suffer away. Use up three or four handkerchiefs a day; go round a walking mass of rottenness, with HEAVY HEAD, DULL EYES, BAD BREATH, and DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS, a curse to yourself and a nuisance to all who come in contact with you, if you must be so obstinate as to not purchase one box of
